PROGRAM NOTE

After a brief introduction, the violas introduce the first melodic theme, then pass to first violins in octaves as Ethan Epple's fun and inventive arrangement develops. The Americana stage is set for seasoned ensembles, employing staccato, shifting to 5th position, creating a broad pitch range, pizzicato, syncopation and a key change moving seamlessly from D major to G Major, while each instrument carries the melody and counter melody. This arrangement is a must-have in your library for recruitment, Veterans Day, Flag Day, the 4th of July, or just because it creatively rounds out your next concert.
